Says T. T. Tolly

All Tolleston's a stage,
 And all the boys and girls merely players:
 They have their exits and entrances;
 And one student in his time plays many parts,
 His acts being seven ages. At first the Freshman
 Blushing and stammering at the Freshman Frolic.
 Then the harassed 10B, with his empty jar
 And woebegone face, creeping like a snail
 To biology class. And then the 10A,
 Dancing at the Hop, with the girls swooning
 To the voice of Frank Sinatra. Then an 11B,
 Filled with dismay and thoughts of coming exams,
 Of Silas Marner, short stories, the Junior test,
 Seeking experience and knowledge
 In school, in play, and in work. And then the 11A,
 In the midst of turmoil and confusion,
 While planning the Prom and Junior Tea,
 Wond'ring about grades and the Girls' Conference,
 And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts
 Into the rushed and busy 12B,
 With chemistry, civics, and safety;
 His youthful countenance furrowed in thought—
 Thoughts of sports, of the sectionals, and of love,
 Dreaming of approaching graduation,
 And about his future. Last scene of all,
 That ends this strange eventful history,
 Is the Senior and his departure,
 Sans tests, sans books, sans school, sans everything.

Standley, Mrs. E. J. Devitt, and Mrs. S. Zyskiewicz.

The former students of the Tolleston School are now scattered over all parts of the world doing their part to bring about better conditions for humanity.

The World War is a war for better world conditions, but it cannot all be fought in Europe, or Asia, or the Pacific; much of it must be fought on the home front. Do we, who are here, realize the great responsibility before us for adjustment in the changing world? In fact, our problem here, while not nearly as dangerous from the physical viewpoint, is equally as serious as the war front problem. What will it profit America if we conquer the whole world and are not able to build a society to cope with the problems resulting therefrom? Therefore, I appeal to all our students and friends who remain at home to make every attempt to fit ourselves into that program with as much zeal and interest as our boys and girls who are entered into the program of the war front.

Let us make a special study of the world court, world economic problems, and the world commerce and labor problems. Let us think in terms of the effect of these problems upon the world and not think at all times of the selfish individual gains to be grasped during this great struggle. The personal gain to the individual soldier on the front is, in many cases, a minus quantity; yet, he goes on and on fighting the battle for future generations. Can we have a broad-minded view of our home problems? Can we think of these problems in terms of our future generations and not always in terms of individual gains in dollars or honor? Then, and only then, can we feel that our boys have not fought in vain!

J. W. Standley.

Principal and His Assistants

The handling of all school money, the requisitioning of supplies, and the collecting of book rental money are the duties of Mrs. Dorothy Gaski.

Arranging programs, making out payrolls, and attending to office correspondence are all part of a busy day for Miss Helen Zakutansky.

Even before school begins Miss Bessie Kratkoczki is hard at work. Issuing lockers and registering new pupils are just two of the many duties she performs.

STUDENT COUNCIL

COUNCIL SUPERVISES SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Officers

President.....	Harry Molchan
Vice-President.....	Irene Kazlauskis
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Mary Verba
Sponsor.....	Mr. Edmon Goforth

The Student Council is a representative body of students who aid the faculty in guiding school activities. They must be consulted if any student organization wishes to sponsor an activity, such as a dance. Posters in the hall must first be approved by the members. Each spring the council holds an election of club and class officers.

This year the members of the Student Council are sponsoring the purchase of/an Honor Roll Plaque. This plaque will contain all the names of Tolleston students who are serving, or have served, in the armed forces. It will be paid for through donations from the faculty, students, and various clubs and organizations.

Cooking and sewing are favorite subjects with girls. They have found it both interesting and profitable to make their own clothes and cook delicious meals.

Learning to make attractive baskets and posters are just two of the many practical things art students do. Metal and woodshop students also make many useful things such as tables, shelves, and metal tools.

Drafting is especially helpful to boys who wish to become draftsmen or mechanics. They learn not only to draw blueprints but to interpret them.

7. T. Tolly introduces the teachers of . . .

Fine and Industrial Arts, Science and Social Science,

Current as well as past history has become more important than ever these war-time days. Students are urged to participate actively in all discussions. This has resulted in a new interest and clearer understanding of our history.

Chemistry is a fascinating study of chemical reactions. Students especially enjoy the many experiments they are allowed to try. The study of plant life in biology adds to leisure enjoyment. Study of the human body enables students to take better care of themselves.

Mathematics and Commerce.

Practical subjects like typing, shorthand, book-keeping, and commercial arithmetic prepare many students for both the business and social worlds. Future housewives learn how to balance budgets while prospective secretaries practice typing business letters.

Besides stressing the fundamentals of mathematics, advanced courses in trigonometry, solid geometry, and advanced algebra are offered to students who intend to take college technical courses.

The Senior and Junior librarians help students select helpful and interesting reading matter. New books, fiction and non-fiction, by well-known authors are constantly added to the shelves.

Debating classes and dramatic productions help boys and girls gain poise and self-confidence. They also teach students how to control their voices and how to improve their diction.

Music, vocal and instrumental, has long been recognized as a means of expressing the emotions. It provides pleasure for both the musician and the listener.

and of Communication

The language classes, English, Spanish, and Latin, give students new ideas and interests. Although what one says is more important than how he says it, a clear, concise speech will make a better impression.

Latin and Spanish classes acquaint students with the customs and languages of other nations. They supplement and enrich the students' knowledge of English.

Salutatorian '45

To the Class of 1945:

We realize (now that we are graduating) some of the happiest hours of our lives will be remembered as hours spent at Tolleston High. Maybe we will remember how we couldn't come to a decision in debating class or how we were stumped by vertical stability in C. A. P. Then there was a time when our fingers and the keys on the typewriter just wouldn't come to an understanding — and say — how could we ever forget those "hot" political arguments in Civics?

There is something pretty special about this school. Maybe it's Mr. Standley who is always willing to give us another chance. Then again, it could be the faculty who have shoved and pushed us into passing from a green freshman to a well seasoned senior. Then too, it might be the student body — who although it is always looking for a good time — has taken its place among those on the home front as well as the battle front. Even then we had time to study a few lessons, keep the traditional football, basketball, baseball and track games going — give some real "bang up" concerts, good dramatic productions and dozens of other activities.

We have kept things going as usual and as best we could. We held our annual Prom, Junior — Senior night, the Military Ball, and a variety show by the P.O.F.C. The athletic department had a big football dance which really set a precedent for dances. Not to be outdone by others, the S. A. A. put on some fine entertainment when they brought in Mickey Sales and his orchestra for an evening of fun and jive. The Dari and I still provided that, "Sheet ya there at nine," atmosphere about them.

I have enjoyed very much being president of the class of nineteen-hundred and forty-five, and I wish to thank you all for your co-operation throughout the year. And now we the seniors, say good-bye to Tolleston and hope you will remember us as we will remember you — and may happiness and prosperity be with you always.

The second year Spanish students discover Donald Duck and Popeye are just as amusing in Spanish as in English.

Spanish has a serious side, too. Learning verb conjugations and new phrases takes up most of the hour.

Singing Spanish songs is very popular with the first year students. Here they are singing one of the favorites, "El Rancho Grande."

Home

These girls find learning to can both absorbing and patriotic. They are Jo Averal Linzy, Bernice Thomas, Delores Wanores, and Catherine Zdankus.

Because of war-time shortage of civilian doctors, home nursing was instituted in our public schools. Learning to take temperature and pulse is only a small part of the course. The girls are Dorothy Watson, Gladys Hammond, and Irene Toth.

The following girls plan programs and activities:

Betty Aaron
Agnes Hill
Helen David
Pauline Shudick
Margaret Laskody
Jo Averal Linzy.

Economics

Despite rationing and food shortages, the cafeteria still manages to prepare appetizing and nutritious meals. Delores Wanores has charge of the cash register while Agnes Hill, Joan Petrovich, Bernice Thomas, Emily Daniels, and Margaret Laskody wait to be served.

Although they seem more interested in the food at present, these future hostesses will find that learning to set an attractive table will come in handy in the future. They are Irene Toth, Wilma Mebert, Pauline Shudick, Roberta Tombers, Dorothy Frame, Marlene Brayack, and Agnes Hill.

Several home nursing students find that making a bed the hospital way is a little different from just tossing the covers on the bed. Sarabelle Frank and Titina Pupillo take one half while Josephine Pizzutto and Doris Parmley struggle with the other.

Public Speaking

Debating was introduced into Tolleston for the first time this year by Mrs. Ivalee Mooney.

Students have debated at eleven neighboring schools. One debate was held at Tolleston. Besides debating and public speaking, students have presented radio programs and have entered Rotary contests and American Legion oratory contests.

Besides helping students gain poise in speaking, the class has provided students with many social events.

Girls'

Speedball opened the G. A. A. sports program as the different teams vigorously kicked the ball back and forth across muddy fields. At the same time handball enthusiasts carried on despite dust-filled winds.

These early sports gave new members a chance to earn the necessary 100 points. On October 6 the halls were filled with eager freshmen, wearing an assortment of granddad's night shirt, big brother's overalls and bouquets of victory garden variety.

Once the initiation was over and the G. A. A. was just a group of laughing, sports-loving girls, the great sport of the year began—basketball. "Fouls, traveling, charging" became common words in G. A. A. members' vocabularies. Captainball and volleyball are other major sports.

SWIMMING

Sports

Winter brought another favorite sport, ice-skating. Fields were flooded and frozen to provide a good skating rink. Hiking was a favorite winter sport. Lunches were packed and overalls donned in preparation for the trek into the dunes.

Popular indoor winter sports were the newly-established badminton and the old favorites, bowling, ping pong, swimming and roller skating.

The gayly decorated gym was filled with the carefree laughter of G. A. A. members and their escorts as the big spring dance got underway. The season's catchiest tunes, colorful dresses, and smiling faces made it one of the main events of the year.

Last of all was the presentation of the senior awards. It was a moment anticipated by all. The menu, entertainment, and other preparations were made carefully in advance. Then came the awards—awards that meant hard work in striving for points and skill in all sports.

BADMINTON

PRO PATRIA

"Your son, my lord, has paid a soldier's debt:
He only lived but till he was a man;
The which no sooner had his prowess confirmed
In the unshrinking station where he fought,
But like a man he died."—Shakespeare.

Tolly's Diary

Sept. 5. Tanned, smiling faces were everywhere. Gay voices and laughter marked the greeting of old friends. It was good to get back to school after all.

Sept. 9. The Raiders started the football season off with a bong as they defeated Catholic Central 6-0.

Sept. 12. First year typing students found they had a little difficulty in getting their fingers and the keys to co-operate.

Sept. 14. The opposition proved a little too hard to handle as Emerson won 20-6.

Sept. 20. Pioneer Staff began to organize. Early plans indicated it would be full of surprises.

Sept. 28. Tolleston certainly had something to cheer about as they walked all over Froebel for a 12-0 victory.

Sept. 29. Miss Ginn's Glee Club sponsored a Star Dust Dance that was really super. Gayly colored musical staffs added a decorative note to the gym.

Oct. 2. First issue of Tolly-Times. Everyone had his nose buried in a copy, eagerly catching up on the latest gossip.

Oct. 3. Social Club opened up under new sponsorship. Miss Petyo, former Tolleston graduate, and Mr. Coons, chemistry teacher from Lew Wallace, were the new sponsors.

Oct. 5. A breathlessly exciting finish climaxed a hard-fought game. Unfortunately Hammond Tech came out on top 14 to 12.

Oct. 6. Heads turned to stare as G. A. A. initiates walked through the halls wearing a combination of their Dad's shirts, overalls, and victory garden bouquets. They really looked odd.

Oct. 14. Second year Spanish students had a swell time at Mrs. Wendt's cottage on the lake. Over-enthusiastic rowboating resulted in a few very wet casualties.

Oct. 20. Orange pumpkins, witches, and black cats lent an eerie air to the G. A. A. Hallowe'en Dance.

Oct. 24. Latin Club initiates took a special trip to Hades as part of their initiation. That's one trip they wished was in the "Is this trip really necessary" category.

Oct. 27. Despite "Joltin' Joe" Stevens' five touchdowns, the Raiders lost to Lew Wallace 40-31.

Nov. 10. Th ninth graders' big event, the Freshman Frolic, was a definite success. (You could tell it was a success by their sleepy faces next morning.)

Nov. 16. The auditorium's first dramatic production, the "Emperor's New Clothes" was a colorful and amusing play. Jerome Ballogg's figure showed to advantage.

Oct. 17. Something new in the way of school dances took place. The juniors held a sock dance which meant everyone danced in stocking feet. Very cute!

Nov. 19. With election day just around the corner, the political arguments got hotter than ever. The ones in civics and history were the most exciting.

Nov. 21. As the football season closed basketball began. Tolleston played a very neat game and beat Hobart. The score was 34-27.

Nov. 22. A Thanksgiving dance, the Turkey Trot, was sponsored by the Tolly-Times Staff. Bright plaid shirts and jeans were the fad.

Nov. 30. A big dance climaxed the end of the football season. The highlight of the evening was the 'crowning of the queen, Mary Pishkur. Her ladies-in-waiting were Shirley Brown, Titina Pupillo, and Marjorie Yaborek.

Tolly's Diary

Dec. 4. English classes were busy writing Christmas messages to Tolleston boys and girls in service.

Dec. 8. An impressive candle light ceremony highlighted the Spanish Club Initiation-Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served by the initiates.

Dec. 12. "Saturnalia" (Christmas to you) was celebrated by the Latin Club. Special guests were Bob Nichols and Wallace Leshk with their dates Norma Modolo and Irene Corzine.

Dec. 13. The Raiders ran into a little tough luck as they dropped a close game. The score was Edison 38 and Tolleston 35.

Dec. 22. Christmas vacation began. Students tore out of the building the minute the 3:55 bell rang.

Jan. 9. "Little Women" provided top-notch entertainment for a packed auditorium. The cast did a swell job.

Jan. 12. Tolleston chalked up another victory by defeating Hammond Clark 31 to 27.

Jan. 15. Victor began to take senior pictures. The boys brushed off their best suits and borrowed Dad's favorite tie in preparation. Girls took special pains with their hair and makeup. Everyone crossed their fingers and hoped for the best.

Jan. 17. Nearly two hundred "hoboes" attended the debate class's Bum's Blowout. The main attraction was a variety show which included a ballet dance that was a scream.

Jan. 24. Everyone studied like mad as exam time rolled around. Later they found, much to their sorrow, that you can't learn a semester's work in one night. Oh, well, better luck next time.

Jan. 30-31. An exciting murder mystery, "Nine Girls," had everyone on the edge of his seat as the plot deepened. The ending came as a surprise to most of the audience.

Feb. 1. Victor took Pioneer pictures again. The staff had quite a time getting things organized.

Feb. 5. The chemistry class was glad to get out into the fresh air after experimenting with sulfur dioxide. It's a powerful, choking gas that makes you feel pretty miserable.

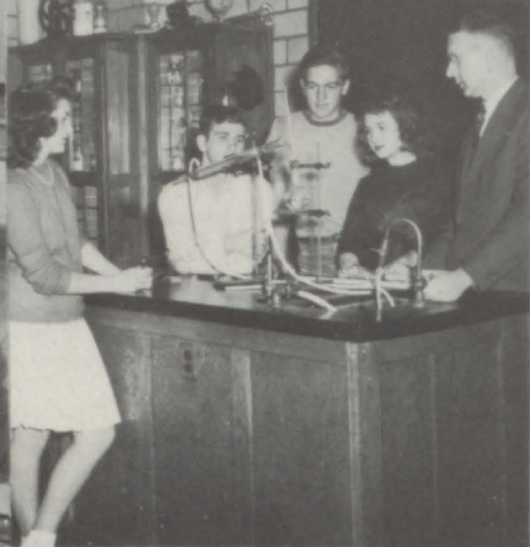

Feb. 14. A large crowd enjoyed the Valentine's Day Concert. All the singing groups performed beautifully.

Feb. 16. The seniors had a special treat. They not only saw coast guard movies about D-Day but heard the experiences of a coast guard hero who actually took part in it. He had all the girls swooning.

Feb. 22. The Raiders opened the sectionals with a decisive victory over Washington Township. The second round was won over Roosevelt by the very close score of 37 to 36. However, the semi-finals told a different story. Kouts won 40 to 35. Emerson won the sectionals after defeating Kouts 60 to 16.

Feb. 27. The Sophomore Girl Reserves went to jail! Don't get excited, though. It was only a visit.

Mar. 3. Plans were discussed by the Student Council for a plaque honoring Tolleston students who had served in the armed forces.

Tolly's Diary

Mar. 8 to 10. A janitor's strike resulted in an unexpected but welcome vacation.

Girls with vividly-colored pajamas, pin curls, and cold-creamed faces held a pajama party at Betty Sidnam's home.

Mar. 15. The staff breathed a sigh of relief as they sent off the first of the Pioneer to the publisher.

Mar. 22, 23, 24. "Pride and Prejudice," the latest of the auditorium productions, was one of its best. That's high praise, indeed.

Mar. 27. Baseball, love notes, and dreamy faces were sure signs that spring was just around the corner.

Apr. 7. Uniforms, uniforms, and more uniforms! It was the Military Ball, of course. The girls' gayly-colored gowns showed to advantage against the background of uniforms.

Apr. 9. The twelfth grade English class discussed love and marriage. They came up with some surprising ideas.

Apr. 13. The Sophomore Hop was postponed because of President Roosevelt's death, on April 12.

Apr. 15. When the Pioneer went to press, the R. O. T. C. show was still a mystery to us. Ray Bobillo, who was in charge, wouldn't even give us the date.

Apr. 18. Sara Crewe's adventures were just as popular as ever as proved by the audience reaction to the "Little Princess." They were very enthusiastic.

Apr. 20. Mickey Isley's orchestra provided dance music for the G. A. A. spring dance. It was just the right tonic to shake off the beginnings of spring fever.

Apr. 27. The band went modern. It played both swing and classical music at the concert. The combination sounded very good.

May 7, 8, 9. Due to the manpower shortage, the entire cast of the Parents' Show consisted of women. They gave four one-act plays that kept the audience in stitches.

May 15. "When will we get our Pioneer?" That question nearly drove the staff crazy trying to find an answer.

May 23, 24, 25. Miss Dyar presented a very timely play entitled "Letters to Lucerne." It concerned a girls' school in Switzerland just before the war.

May 31, June 1. Voices blended in beautiful song as the May Concert got under way.

June 2. All the girls looked their prettiest and the boys their handsomest on the night of the Prom. There was the usual race to beat the milkman the next morning.

June 10. Reverend Ladizinsky was the guest speaker at the Baccalaureate services. All the seniors looked so solemn.

June 11. Vocational commencement was held for all the schools. Tolleston made a good showing.

June 12. Graduates of all the schools marched down Broadway and into Memorial Auditorium to hear several speakers.

June 18. Tears were shed as the graduates marched down the aisle in their long gray robes to receive their diplomas.

June 20. Vacation arrived at last. We all looked forward to long days spent lazily on the beach. We can dream, can't we?
